Who is UCR Health?

UCR Health is the clinical arm of the University of California, Riverside School of Medicine.

We are not a health insurance provider — we are a network of doctors, specialists, and clinics that deliver medical care to patients across the Inland Empire.

Who is UCR Health?

With UCR Health being the clinical enterprise of the School of Medicine, this makes us part of an academic health system.

That means our doctors are faculty physicians who not only care for patients but also:

1. Teach medical students
2. Train residents
3. Conduct research

This model combines education, research, and patient care to improve health outcomes in our community.
