Eaton fire: Evacuations, school closures, shelters

The Eaton fire, which broke out Tuesday night near Eaton Canyon, has burned 10,600 acres in Altadena and Pasadena, spurring numerous evacuations. Arcadia and Sierra Madre also ordered evacuations in some of their northern neighborhoods.

Evacuations

- Most of Altadena was ordered evacuated, as was unincorporated Kinneloa Mesa. The mandatory evacuation area was expanded in Altadena to include areas west of Lake Avenue and north of Altadena Drive and generally the area north of Woodbury Road east of Windsor Avenue and west of Fair Oaks Avenue.
- In Pasadena, a mandatory evacuation order was in place in the northern half of the neighborhood of Hastings Ranch — north of Sierra Madre Boulevard. A mandatory evacuation order was downgraded to a warning elsewhere in Pasadena.
- Evacuation orders were also issued for eastern La Cañada Flintridge, including the Jet Propulsion Laboratory, according to the official evacuation map on the Genasys website.
- In Sierra Madre, mandatory evacuations were ordered north of Sierra Madre Boulevard, and voluntary evacuations were in place for the rest of the city.
- In Arcadia, mandatory evacuations were ordered north of Foothill Boulevard and east of Santa Anita Avenue, as well as north of Orange Grove Avenue and west of Santa Anita Avenue.
- The area of Glendale placed under a mandatory evacuation order is east of the 2 Freeway. By Thursday morning, some of those evacuations were beginning to lift. City officials notified residents in Glenoaks Canyon and Chevy Chase Canyon that it was safe to return to their homes.

Shelters

- Pasadena Convention Center, at 300 E. Green St.

Here's how to help wildfire victims as California blazes explode in size

The American Red Cross has hundreds of volunteers deploying to Los Angeles to assist with emergent needs of those displaced by the fire.

The agency currently has four shelters in place and plans to add more as needed, according to Los Angeles regional executive director Joanne Nowlin.

"This is significant," Nowlin told ABC News. "It's not just the fire, but you've got wind damage, you've got power outages, you've got trees falling, deteriorating air quality. This is impacting thousands and thousands of folks in Los Angeles."

The Red Cross provides emergency relief to residents and families impacted by disasters, providing meals, medical care and a safe place to shower and sleep.

Salvation Army

Contact us anytime for confidential assistance.

The Salvation Army is able to provide assistance by delivering water, food and emergency supplies. The agency offers both long-term recovery assistance and emergency relief.

<https://social.salvationarmy.org/southern-california/california-wildfires/>

World Central Kitchen

World Central Kitchen's relief team is able to support those impacted by the wildfires, as well as first responders, in Southern California.

According to the agency, teams have mobilized to bring in meals to those who are in need of help.

Airbnb

Airbnb.org is offering temporary housing for those displaced by the fires in the Los Angeles area.

The company is working with 211 LA, which offers free housing in Los Angeles County, to coordinate the housing effort.

From free Ubers to hotel discounts: List of resources for LA wildfire victims

Just as multiple wildfires are spreading through the Los Angeles area, several companies and organizations are offering free or discounted resources to help victims and their loved ones stay safe.

According to the California Department of Forestry and Fire Protection, the Palisades wildfire has destroyed at least 1,000 structures since Tuesday, making it the most destructive fire to ever occur in Los Angeles County.

Evacuation efforts have been repeatedly complicated by snarled traffic situations as masses of people attempt to flee on limited highway space and narrow roads. See a list of road closures here: <https://www.nbclosangeles.com/news/local/list-of-freeway-and-highway-closures-due-to-wildfires-in-los-angeles/3597342/>

Here are some of the free or discounted resources available to wildfire evacuees and first responders:

Transportation

Uber: Residents in Los Angeles County who've been ordered to vacate their homes can get a credit from Uber to get to an evacuation site. The $40 will only be valid for trips to an active shelter and by using the code WILDFIRE25.

Lyft: Lyft announced it will be offering $25 vouchers, valid for two trips, to 500 customers from now until midnight on Jan. 15. Use the code CAFIRERELIEF25 to get the promotion.

Housing

A collection of vacation homes and hotels is listed on this page: <https://www.bigbear.com/la-county-evacuee-lodging/> which has been created specifically for the needs of fire evacuees.

Visit Anaheim: People affected by the wildfires can visit Visit Anaheim's official website and find special hotel offers and assistance. <https://www.visitanaheim.org/fire-relief/>

Utilities

AT&T: The telecommunications company announced it is offering wildfire areas unlimited data, talk and text through Feb. 6. Visit their official site for a list of valid zip codes.

Verizon: Verizon announced it will waive call, text and data charges for customers in hardest hit areas. The company also deployed free Wifi and charging stations at three wildfire shelters.

Health

Planet Fitness: The fitness chain is offering evacuees and first responders free access to their facilities, including showers, locker rooms, and WiFi. Offer is valid until Jan. 15 Please contact your nearest Planet Fitness for more information.

Important Resources for Pet Owners Affected by the California Wildfires

What to do if you need to evacuate with your pets and how you can help the animals who have been displaced from their homes in Los Angeles County.

As I'm writing this story, there are thousands of Los Angeles residents who are being ordered to evacuate their homes as the California wildfires continue. The Watch Duty app has real-time information on the current blazes. As a pet owner, I wanted to compile information for anyone who has to evacuate with their pet—and for animal lovers who can offer support and help at this time.

This resource list will be continually updated as more information is provided. If you'd like to send me a resource, add a comment to this pet-specific Thread.

Resources List for Animal Evacuations

- If you are in a situation where you need to leave without being able to take your pet with you, here is a Google Docs open list of local areas that are providing shelter to large animals, animal boarding, and detailed information.
- Travel curator Kristen Fung posted on Threads that several hotel chains will welcome pets. Per Fung's post, "Kimptons are the pet friendliest that allow more than one pet, no extra fees, or weight limits. The Ws will take more than one pet at a pet deposit and $50 per day per pet Palisociety and Line hotels take one pet at a fee and weight limits." She also points out that large animals can be sheltered at the Los Angeles Equestrian Center.
- Nonprofit organization, One Dane at a Time, is offering to take in any animals—as well as a generous donor who has offered placement in her Pomona home. Reach out directly to the organization to coordinate. They are located away from the fires so they are a safe haven for pets right now.
- Per Threads, the pet hotel, Four Paws One Tail, can host and care for 20 more pets for free at the Four Paws 1 Tail in 8424 Haskell Ave, North Hills, CA 91343.
- If you are in need of pet supplies or need temporary shelter for your pets, you can reach out to the Lange Foundation at 2106 South Sepulveda Blvd, Los Angeles, CA 90025.
- Mutual Aid LA has a running list on Instagram of animal rescue centers. Check out the comments in the post for specific rescue organizations offering to take in animals.
- Leo's Animal Rescue in Kern County (about two-and-half hours away from Los Angeles) is able to take in some animals as well.

What You Can Do to Help Animals in Need

Right now, several shelters are asking for anyone who can help foster and take in animals as they see an influx of animals coming in. If you can volunteer, offer space in your home, or donate, take the time to give to these organizations who are on the ground, taking in emergency cases.

Rescues & Shelters That Need Assistance Now

- The Lange Foundation is asking for donations for cat food, dog food, litter, and pet supplies. If anyone can help with temporary fostering right now, they are asking you contact them at info@langefoundation.org.
- Philozoa Animal Rescue in Topanga is desperately seeking dog fosters as their ranch is on fire and the 30 dogs in their care need to be evacuated. Reach out if you can bring a dog into your home temporarily.
- Pasadena Humane Society. They have taken in over 100 animals so far. From the shelter, "We will accept animals for emergency boarding at our Animal Resource Center at 361 S. Raymond Avenue, Pasadena, 91105."
- If you find injured wildlife, text 626-344-1129 to pass along the information to PHS.
- PHS has asked for anyone who can take in a dog or cat to contact them. From the shelter, "We ask that anyone who can safely foster a dog or a cat for at least one week to please come to the Pasadena Humane Foster Office or email foster@pasadenahumane.org. Our greatest need is for large dog fosters."
- Drop off donations needed: food, water bowls, extra large crates, and blankets. Place into the donation bins located in the front underground parking lot.
