Featured Training

Managing the People Side of Change

Tuesday, August 24, 2021 | 2:00 – 3:00 p.m.

The Prosci ADKAR Model is a goal-oriented change management model that guides individual and organizational change. ADKAR is an acronym that represents the five stages people must move through to adopt a new way of doing things – Awareness, Desire, Knowledge, Ability and Reinforcement. The ADKAR Model is a powerful framework for understanding how change can happen with a single individual and can be used personally, by viewing a change you are working through and identifying where and why you may be struggling. For more information and registration, please visit the UC Learning Center.

Managing in the Modern Workplace

Tuesday, September 28, 2021 | 10:00 a.m. – 12:00 p.m.

With the modern workplace landscape changing, managers and supervisors need to learn how to adapt their supervision to remote/hybrid teams. There are many potential benefits and challenges to supervising remote employees. Within this course, participants will learn how to question their workplace paradigms, overcome the common obstacles to hybrid teams and increase employee engagement. This course will address issues such as managing remote/hybrid teams, setting expectations and coaching employees. Participants will be able to:

- Identify workplace paradigms
- Apply a framework for engaging employees
- Effectively identify and communicate job expectations
- Provide coaching conversations to employees

To register for this course, please visit the UC Learning Center.

Onboarding Volunteers, Interns, Research Program Participants or Temporary Employees

It is a good time to refresh your knowledge of the UCR Policy 650-85: Volunteers, Contingent Workers and Person of Interest Appointments on Campus.

Volunteers and other types of contingent workers are subject to UCR Policy 650-85, which provides guidance for the use of non-employees of the University, to promote safety, reduce risk, and protect the interests of the UCR campus, its contingent workers, persons of interest and the community it services.

Types of Contingent workers Include:

- All contingent workers, including volunteers and temporary agency workers, must be entered in UCPATH for tracking purposes. Assignments should be established prior to the commencement of work.
- Departments can initiate the appointment using the ServiceLink New Hire Request for Contingent Workers.
- Unpaid Student Interns: all unpaid student intern volunteers who are performing service solely for their personal educational goals unrelated to the pursuit of their academic degree should be appointed as a Staff Intern, Code CWR 004. A student intern is a student seeking to enhance their academic and career goals by gaining supervised practical experience and applying classroom theory to real world situations.
- Contingent Worker: an individual engaged by UCR on a non-permanent basis to complete a specific function or task who does not have an employee relationship with UCR and does not receive compensation through UCPATH. Those individuals employed through temporary agencies are considered contingent workers.
- Volunteer: an individual providing service directly to and under the supervision of the university with no promise or expectation of compensation. See the policy for detailed definitions.

Being hired in UCPATH is the first step towards gaining access to the UC Learning Center to complete required safety or other types of training. Hiring departments should refer to the LMS Access Matrix for Departments for additional onboarding steps to ensure access to the UC Learning Center for contingent workers. Contingent workers are assigned required safety trainings in the UC Learning Center.

New Safety Orientation Training Requirement

On July 1, 2021, Environmental Health and Safety launched the new online Safety Orientation training in the UC Learning Center. The course includes more relevant content to support a healthy and safe workplace, reflects Cal/OSHA requirements and is an opportunity to refamiliarize yourself with general campus safety practices, procedures and expectations.

Safety Orientation training is required for all faculty, staff, contingent workers, affiliates, and volunteers at all UCR locations and must be completed within 90 days. Safety Orientation training certification must then be renewed every three years by retaking the course.

If you work, or supervise others who work, in a laboratory or technical area, the required Laboratory Safety Fundamentals training will satisfy this requirement and you will not be required to take the Safety Orientation course.

To review your assigned training and launch the course, please take the following steps:

1. Go to <https://ucrllearning.ucr.edu>
2. Select the Log in Now button and login with your UCR credentials
3. Select Required Training from the UC Learning Center home page
4. Find Safety Orientation in the list, and if needed, select Start to launch the course

Watch a demonstration video on Required Training or Training Analysis in the UC Learning Center Learner Guide.
