

International Affairs – Move from Periphery to Center

| Build financial stability, resiliency, and sustainability of IA and UCR | Invest in the success of the people of International Affairs and all people who teach, do research, work, learn, and live at UCR | Expand the visibility and scope of influence of International Affairs and UCR locally, nationally, and globally |
|--|---|---|
| IA helps UCR to achieve financial stability (ROI 1:5). Part of generated funds is needed to sustain and further develop IA. Initiatives <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Grow nonresident enrollment • Increase MS enrollment • Receive dedicated percentage of non-resident tuition funding for International Affairs • Increase number of staff positions • Implement fees for processing post-graduation employment applications • Grow 3:1+X, 4+1, 3+2 programs • Outreach to international alumni and parents | Make IA and UCR place of choice to work and study Initiatives <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Improve overall UCR experience for international students • Expand high-impact practices - increasing Education Abroad participation - Academic Integration for Education Abroad for undergraduate programs • Improve overall UCR experience for international scholars • Create international scholars' network • Reimagine and redesign staff experience to focus on retention and developing values-led environment for staff to thrive • Expand professional development opportunities for staff – on campus, online, around the region, and with professional organizations nationwide | Successful Internationalization => recognition = prestige => higher rankings Initiatives <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Senator Paul Simon and APLU Award for Global Learning, Research, & Engagement – IA to guide collaborative opportunities across academic and non-academic units - campus-wide internationalization through cross-pollination of efforts and resources. Building awareness amongst all stakeholders will foment international activities and grow a strong commitment to internationalization. • Expand and refine international outreach – alumni, parents • Increase outreach to and engagement with current students and parents • Develop and implement a strategy for on-going IA staff participation in professional organizations |